Basic statistics, understanding and analysing data 15-16 November 2016, Edinburgh - UK

The SoReCom-Joint-IDP fellow Ana Tomicic has participated in the course on the Basic statistics, understanding and analysing data in Edinburgh in the UK.

The purpose of this two day course in Edinburgh was to help delegates understand some basic statistical concepts and develop a strategy for approaching a simple data analysis. The course has introduced basic concepts such as hypothesis testing and confidence interval estimation. It provided the tools to undertake a simple analysis of a dataset and included some helpful hints and tips for reading and understanding reported statistics.

The So.Re.Com. THEmatic NETwork Scientific Activities New Book

We are pleased to announce the publication of the new book

The Dialogical Mind: Common Sense and Ethics

by Ivana Marková

Professor Emeritus of Psychology at the University of Stirling, UK

Dialogue has become a central theoretical concept in human and social sciences as well as in professions such as education, health, and psychotherapy. This 'dialogical turn' emphasizes the importance of social relations and interaction to our behaviour and how we make sense of the world; hence the dialogical mind is the mind in interaction with others - with individuals, groups, institutions, and cultures in historical perspectives. Through a combination of rigorous theoretical work and empirical investigation, Marková presents an ethics of dialogicality as an alternative to the narrow perspective of individualism and cognitivism that has traditionally dominated the field of social psychology. The dialogical perspective, which focuses on interdependencies among the Self and Others, offers a powerful theoretical basis to comprehend, analyse, and discuss complex social issues. Marková considers the implications of dialogical epistemology both in daily life and in professional practices involving problems of communication, care, and therapy.

- Proposes dialogicality as the epistemology of common sense
- Highlights the ethical nature of the Self-Other(s) interdependence in its cultural and historical contexts
- Emphasizes the importance of dialogical epistemology for professional practices
